

70m Trawler based in Scotland
Fraserburgh- Scotland.

This 70M trawler is fishing for herring, mackerel and blue whiting, operating in depths of approximately 100-180M.

The WMB-160F was purchased to determine the density of the school as it passes under the vessel and therefore make any last minute adjustments to their heading.

This allows them to ensure the nets are going through the most productive area of the school and they are using the triple beam sounder and sonar to view this real time information.

Steven Wood, Sales Director from our UK distributor Woodson's of Aberdeen, reports that the sea trial went well and the owner is delighted with the performance.

They have recently returned from the first fishing trip after installing the equipment and are very happy with the results.
